H.R. 460
Human Trafficking Detection Act of 2015

As ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs on March 4, 2015

H.R. 460 would require the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to train certain employees in techniques for detecting and deterring human trafficking. DHS also would have to prepare an annual report to the Congress on the effectiveness of the training program. There are ongoing activities within the department to provide the training required by the act, so CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 460 would not significantly affect DHS spending. Because enacting the legislation would not affect direct spending or revenues, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply.

H.R. 460 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.
